

Weekend Tornadoes Rip Nation, Leave Dozen Dead, 260 Injured

FLYING FINISH. These F-84F Thunderstreak jet fighters brought "Tobyhanna Days" to a roaring peak Saturday afternoon as they swooped over The Stroudsburgs in tight diamond formation shown here at 1 and 3 p.m. Hundreds lined sidewalks to watch demonstration, listen to two-way ground-air communications broadcast over public address system in Stroudsburg. Shot shown here was "stopped" by fast action of Rollei camera; had to be good because jets were flying 350 miles per hour. (Staff Photo by MacLeod)

Pro-Germans Lead In Saar

SAARBRÜCKEN, Saar, May 13 (U-P) — Parties demanding union of the rich industrial Saar with West Germany surged into a 2-1 lead tonight in local elections.

Early returns bore out Premier Hubert Ney's boast the vote would kill French illusions that the Saar wants to be separated from Germany.

Three pro-German parties collared 71 per cent of the vote in both municipal and district council elections. The district and municipal councils have been largely controlled by pro-French parties.

The pro-German parties, outvoted until last year, were expected to get at least two-thirds of the vote. About 80 per cent of the Saar's 680,000 eligible voters cast ballots.

Soviets To End Camps Of Internment

MOSCOW, May 13 (U-P) — A high Soviet secret police official said today all internment camps in the Soviet Union will be abolished within the next year to 18 months.

The official made this statement to a group of French Socialists who visited a prison camp at Tula, some 80 miles south of Moscow.

The official, whose name could not be disclosed, told the visiting Frenchmen the deportation of Soviet citizens to distant sections of the country is now generally forbidden. It can still be applied, however, to persons convicted of various serious political crimes.

Order

Even in these cases, he said, deportation could be ordered only after trial by normal court procedure. In most cases, convicted persons would be imprisoned in areas where they lived or as near as possible to their homes, he added.

The official told the Frenchmen that in the future there would be only two types of detention—in ordinary prisons and in corrective labor colonies.

In contrast to the system in the old concentration camps, he said, inmates of the labor colonies could not be sent to work on projects outside them. The colonies would contain factories where the convicts would work.

He said that a special commission has been set up to review the sentences of persons convicted of political, counter-revolutionary and crimes against the state.

Panama's Voters Line Up For Quiet Election

PANAMA, May 13 (U-P) — Panama's voters lined up today to choose a new president, two vice presidents and a new National Assembly in what promised to be a quiet election.

The canvass of returns from 830 polling places starts Monday morning. More than 383,000 citizens were eligible to vote.

President

For president, they chose between Ernesto de la Guardia Jr., a 1925 graduate in business administration from Dartmouth, and Victor Florencio Goytia, a former chief justice of the Supreme Court who gave up a newspaper job with the Diario de las Americas in Miami, Fla., to run for office.

Three-Fourths Of Vacationers Enjoy Poconos

MORE THAN three-fourths of the people who vacationed in the Pocono Mountains in 1955 were enthusiastic about their stay here.

Such is the finding developing out of two surveys conducted by the Pocono Mountains Vacation Bureau among the 30,000 persons who made written inquiries to the PMVB office during the 1955.

"The more incredible figure is that 86 percent of those 76 percent (who liked their Pocono vacation) are planning to come back," according to a summary of the surveys released by Horace Strunk, executive secretary of the Vacation Bureau and the Chamber of Commerce.

"Only two percent of those not coming back gave as their reason the flood. Only one percent of those not planning to return were dissatisfied with conditions.

Ike Quiet On Plans For Campaign

By The Associated Press

PRESIDENT Eisenhower has a lot of plans and ideas on how he is going to campaign for reelection this fall, but he is not telling "the opposition" about them yet.

Adlai Stevenson, Estes Kefauver and Averell Harriman have been designated "eminently qualified" for the Democratic presidential nomination by the self-styled "liberal" Americans for Democratic Action.

ADA says any one of the three Democrats would make an acceptable president, but it has resolved to oppose "with all its resources" an Eisenhower-Nixon Republican ticket.

Convention

Concluding its three-day convention in Washington Sunday, the ADA adopted a resolution criticizing what it called Eisenhower's "addiction to inordinate delegation of responsibility." It said the President's health has dramatized the importance of the vice presidency.

Vice President Richard M. Nixon, it said, has disqualified himself by his conduct in past political campaigns.

The 600 ADA delegates applauded playback of tape-recorded interviews with the three Democratic candidates. In the recording, Kefauver, Stevenson and Harriman answered a series of questions propounded by the ADA. While they differed in degree on some subjects, their views appeared to conform fundamentally on most questions.

All agreed in general, for one thing, that some sort of presidentially ordered conference is needed to help bring about integration in the public schools. All listed this country's role in foreign affairs as a prime campaign issue.

Eisenhower's campaign plans were discussed, in somewhat veiled fashion, by his press secretary, James C. Hagerty. Appearing on a filmed television program with Rep. Keating (R-N.Y.), Hagerty said:

"We have a lot of plans. It's a little bit too early now to announce those plans, either to the people or more particularly to the opposition party."

"We are in a new age—an electronics age—and we have a lot of ideas and a lot of thoughts on how to campaign."

Television

By electronics Hagerty apparently meant television. It already has been announced the president probably will make five or six TV campaign speeches, some of which may be in different parts of the country.

Eisenhower, obviously cheered by the results of his latest medical examination, flew to his country home at Gettysburg, Pa., yesterday with birthday gifts for a mother-in-law, Mrs. John S. Doud, and Mother's Day gifts for his wife. He is expected to fly back to Washington Monday.

Harriman, who says he is not an active candidate for the Democratic nomination, is setting out on an eight-day speech making swing through six Western states. His backers hope to show that he has party support for the presidential nomination outside his home state of New York.

Possibility

Another favorite son possibility, Sen. Lyndon B. Johnson of Texas, was reported planning to use his convention strength in an effort to win the nomination of a "moderate" candidate who can hold the Democrats together.

Husband Held For Shooting

PITTSBURGH, May 13 (U-P) — Roy J. Metz, 43, of suburban Dormont, was being held today in the fatal shooting of his wife, Elizabeth, 35, on the eve of Mother's Day.

Mrs. Metz was killed by a single bullet fired by Metz from a .38 revolver in the climax to a domestic quarrel. Police Sgt. Thomas Madden reported, Mrs. Metz was the mother of two daughters.

Cavanaugh Succumbs At Hospital

CALVIN CAVANAUGH, 51, died at the Monroe County General Hospital early this morning of injuries suffered in an automobile accident.

A hospital spokesman announced that the time of death was 12:05 a. m. The body was released to the Dunkelberger and Westbrook Funeral Home.

Cavanaugh, a resident of 212 N. Seventh St., Stroudsburg, suffered severe head and chest injuries and a dislocated hip when a car in which he was a passenger crashed into a trailer truck on Route 611 at 3:15 a. m. Saturday.

John "Kelly" Petrokonis, driver of the car, was reported in fair condition at the hospital early this morning.

A detailed story and two pictures of the wreck appear on Page 12 of today's Daily Record.

Eden Faces Third Degree In Parliament

LONDON, May 13 (U-P) — Prime minister Eden faces a searching third degree in Parliament tomorrow night in the strange case of the missing frogman, who apparently lost his life spying on Soviet warships in British waters.

Laborites will try to force Eden to say who ordered retired naval diver Lionel Crabbs to spy on the underbelly of the cruiser Orzhonikidze—the ship that brought Nikolai Bulganin and Nikita Khrushchev to Britain.

But the quizzing won't stop there for the questions are piling up on this international mystery that has all the trappings of a first-rate melodrama.

Pressed

Eden will be pressed to take up the story where it officially ends in the British reply to Russia's diplomatic request for an explanation of what a frogman was doing beneath her warships anchored in English waters.

The terse explanation is that his actions were completely unauthorized; he is presumed to have met his death there; it's not in the public interest to say more.

British politicians say it's doubtful if the Prime Minister will be willing—even if he could—to fill in the missing gaps that are causing all sorts of speculation and considerable embarrassment to his government.

They say by keeping silent and taking the rap, Eden will be putting patriotism above politics, for some branch of Britain's secret service apparently is involved right up to its best cloak and dagger.

But Eden could break the case wide open. The possibility—though faint—of his doing this whets the national interest in the Commons debate.

Harding Defies Fate

NICOSIA, Cyprus, May 13 (U-P) — Sir John Harding, the British military governor of Cyprus, today defied would-be assassins by showing up for regular Church of England services in this tense island capital.

Two soldier guards accompanied Harding as he worshipped with other Britishers. EOKA, the underground organization, has called upon all "patriotic" Greek Cypriots to kill Harding following the execution of two of their young compatriots as political gunmen.

Church

While Harding attended church thousands of Greek Cypriots went quietly to Orthodox services throughout the island to mourn for the two dead men.

Only one incident marred the Sunday calm. A homemade bomb was tossed through the window of a security force billet at Famagusta, injuring two men, one seriously.

The British cracked down on the community of Paphos by imposing a $15,400 collective fine as punishment for the killing of a royal Marine commando last Wednesday.

Smuggling Crackdown

MEXICO CITY, May 13 (U-P) — Mexico's Customs Department has set up an aerial patrol of the border with the United States to crack down on increasing smuggling. The first of seven planes to be put in service has begun flying the border opposite Texas.

'Tobyhanna Days' Close With Note Of Success

LOCAL businessmen, officials and Tobyhanna Signal Depot employees joined yesterday in praise for a highly successful "Tobyhanna Days" celebration.

There were more Signal Corps exhibits this year than ever before. And more people saw them.

A Signal Depot employee estimated last night as the doors closed on the main exhibit hall on Main St. that about 9,000 or more people visited the exhibition during its three-day stay there.

There were more bargains in stores in The Stroudsburgs. And more people took advantage of them.

Store owners and managers in both boroughs said crowds over the weekend were unprecedented for a two-day observance of this kind.

There was a special, rip-roaring, supersonic star attraction—arranged through the cooperation of the Pennsylvania Air National Guard—and a borough-sized crowd turned out on Main and side streets to watch it.

This was the Saturday fly-over by a group of F-84F jet fighters, popularly called Thunderstreaks. Ground-air communications between the planes and the control tower atop the former Montgomery Ward building were relayed to listeners over a public address system installed there.

For visitors the "listening-in" was one of the highlights of the demonstration. One comment, at least, caused a big laugh among those listening below.

That came when a communique from Col. Edgar Owens, the man who led the flight, said matter-of-factly: "We're slowing down to 350 miles an hour now when we pass over."

The remarkably maneuverable Thunderstreaks were flying at a relatively low altitude, by comparison to their maximum efficiency level of 40,000 feet. On the flight over the boroughs they were flying at a height of 1,500.

One other highlight of the weekend observance was the awarding of U. S. Savings Bonds as prizes Saturday at 5 p.m. On a platform to the front of the Ward building, awards were made of bonds contributed by the Stroudsburg Businessmen's Association. These were:

A $100 bond to Joan Notestine, 121 N. First St., Stroudsburg; a $50 bond to Mrs. Clarence Bush, Stroudsburg RD2; a $25 bond to Mrs. Jennie Carlton, Greentown. Two $25 bonds presented by

First Stroudsburg National Bank and Stroudsburg Security Trust Co. went to Mrs. Virginia Whitman, 142 Maple Ave., East Stroudsburg, and Mary Miraglia, 554 Main St., Stroudsburg.

Only one store offered major prizes of bonds. This was Wyckoff's Department Store where four $25 bonds went to: Annette E. Broderick, East Stroudsburg RD3; Mrs. E. P. Allen, Bushkill; Mrs. Robert Burns, 203 Prospect Ave., Scranton, and Robert Notz, 5 Grandview Ave., East Stroudsburg.

The special two-day "Tobyhanna Days" celebration was designed to emphasize the neighborliness of both The Stroudsburgs and Tobyhanna Signal Depot.

It was the largest of its kind ever conducted in the local community, largely due to the great effort put forth by the Depot in bringing in displays and floats, local officials noted.

Cooperation from the Depot from the beginning was full-scale. Col. Robert Angster, in a special statement issued for "Tobyhanna Days," expressed gratitude that the work done by depot employees was being recognized. Proclamations signed by burgesses of both boroughs officially set the two days aside as "Tobyhanna Days."

Israeli Leader Out Of Prison

ZURICH, Switzerland, May 13 (U-P) — Mordechai Oren, Israeli left-wing Socialist leader, arrived here today from five years imprisonment in Czechoslovakia and repudiated a confession that he had been part of a Zionist network spying against the Communists.

Oren, 51, looking gray and emaciated, arrived by plane after the abrupt termination yesterday of his 15-year sentence. "I had no idea of what was happening until yesterday," he said as he stepped off the plane. "Yesterday afternoon I was called before a security officer and advised that I would be allowed to leave. No explanation was given."

Prague

He said he had been held in Pankrac prison in Prague for the past several months and before that was in prison in Bratislava where he did forced work.

The work kept me from thinking," he said.

Conservatives Capture Close Nod In Austria's Election

VIENNA, Austria, May 13 (U-P) — Chancellor Julius Raab's Conservatives today won a close victory in Austria's parliamentary election. They immediately proclaimed a halt to nationalization of industry.

That was the big issue in the contest between Raab's People's Party and the Socialists, who demanded more nationalization. About 30 per cent of Austria's basic industry is state owned. Rightist and Communists both lost parliamentary seats in this first national election since the Russians went home.

Unofficial

Complete unofficial returns gave this lineup: Conservatives 82 seats, Socialists 75, Rightist Freedom League, 5, Communists 3.

The old lineup in the 165-member parliament was Conservatives 74, Socialists 73, Freedom League 14, Communists 4.

"It was a victory for Austria's future," Raab said in a statement.

Relatives Identify Body Of Flood Victim

A WEST CALDWELL, N. J. funeral director will come to Stroudsburg today to take the body of Michael J. McCaffrey "home."

Relatives identified the 69th body of a flood victim Saturday as the seven-year-old McCaffrey boy.

Dr. Charles Rushmore, Monroe County coroner, said the identification was made by the boy's uncle and aunt, Mr. and Mrs. Frank Koch, also of West Caldwell. The boy was the son of Mr. and Mrs. Bernard McCaffrey, 88 Otton Road, Caldwell, N. J.

The body was unearthed Thursday night by an East Stroudsburg RD 3 farmer, Arthur Wiest. The man was plowing a field near Camp Shadowbrook between N. Fifth St. and the Broadhead Creek, when part of the remains were caught in one of the plow's three blades.

Identification of the child's body was made through examination of hair and clothing. Teeth were also used, Dr. Rushmore said.

Michael McCaffrey was one of 38 persons who died in the disastrous flood last August which swept Camp Davis away. Included in the list of dead, also, are his brother and his grandmother. Six persons—five children and one adult—are still missing from last August's flood.

Pennsylvania Struck By Flash Floods

By The Associated Press

A SERIES of weekend tornadoes and storms left at least 12 persons dead, more than 260 injured and property damage in excess of eight million dollars Sunday.

The tornadoes struck Saturday night and Sunday, and the thunderstorms that spawned them caused flood conditions in parts of Michigan and Pennsylvania.

Hardest hit areas were Cleveland; Flint, Mich., and two suburban Detroit areas; Windsor, Ont. and Dequesne, Pa.

Six Dead

A Saturday night thunderstorm left six dead in the Cleveland area, injured at least 56 and caused property damage of "several million dollars."

Police estimated damage at five million in the Cleveland suburb of Rocky River alone. Another Cleveland suburb, Lakewood, also suffered heavy damage.

Six others were killed by twisters in Michigan and more than 200 others were injured. Nineteen separate tornadoes spun down on that state late Saturday. Damage in Flint alone was estimated by police at between 1½ and 2 million dollars.

Five persons were injured in Pennsylvania storms. Damage was estimated at a half million dollars in Duquesne, Pa. Winds of tornado force caused heavy damage in the Omaha area. The swollen Flint River drove 100 persons from their homes in Flint, but then started receding. The threat of additional rains kept flood fears alive.

The worst flash flood in 50 years was reported at Meadville, Pa., a community of about 20,000 some 90 miles north of Pittsburgh. The Mill Run stream flooded a 12-block area of the business district.

A small twister struck in Kansas Sunday afternoon causing an estimated $30,000 damage to farm property near Yates Center.

The Weather Bureau issued tornado alerts for Sunday afternoon or evening for areas from southeastern Minnesota to western New York. There were no reports of actual twisters developing.

The torrential downpour which accompanied what the Weather Bureau called Michigan's worst night in history, swelled the Flint River out of its banks in downtown Flint, an eastern Michigan city of 160,000.

A similar flood was threatened at Grand Rapids, Mich., where the Grand River neared flood stage.

The Weather Bureau warned of severe thunderstorms and possibly several tornadoes Sunday in a broad band below the Great Lakes from southeastern Minnesota, southern Wisconsin and Michigan, northern Illinois, Indiana and Ohio, western Pennsylvania and western New York.

Thunder

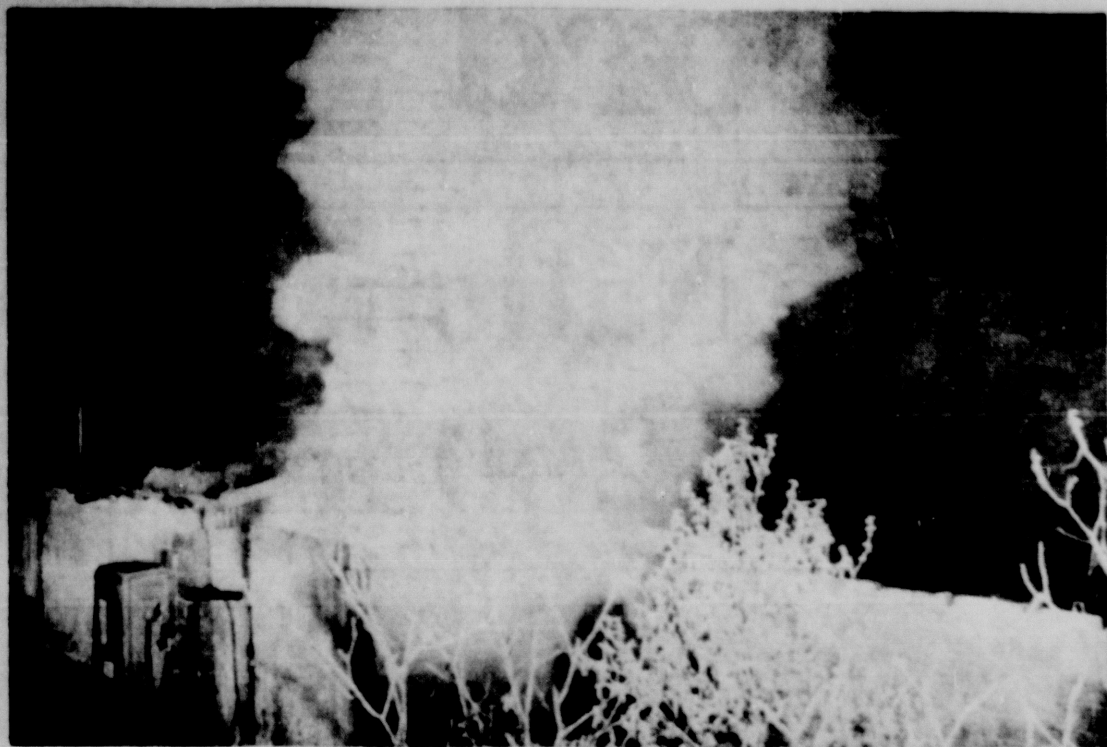

Thunderstorms without the specific threat of tornadoes cracked over much of the nation's midsection, from the Rocky Mountains to the Appalachians, and extended northeastward into New England.

Three twisters hit almost simultaneously Saturday at Flint where 116 died in Michigan's worst tornado in 1953. Three were killed there, including a couple who died in the wreckage of their home. A woman at Ithaca was killed in the collapse of a barn, and other storm deaths occurred at Muskegon and Saginaw.

More than 200 homes were reduced to rubble in the Flint area, and some 500 families have been evacuated from flood-threatened homes along the Grand River east of Grand Rapids and along the Flint River.

Chicago sweltered through its third straight day of record heat. The mercury hit 88.8 degrees breaking the 86.2 record set in 1900. However, Milwaukee, only some 90 miles north of Chicago, had a midday high of only 46. The cold front was expected to pass through Chicago during the night. New York City's 56-year-old heat record of 86 degrees for May 13 toppled when the temperature rose to 87.6. Forty school girls attending a convocation of 10,000 Catholic Youth leaders at Fordham University suffered heat prostration and were treated at a temporary infirmary on the campus.

Other midday temperatures Sunday included Tampa, Fla., 89; Charleston, S.C., 90; Washington, D. C., 90; Boston, 72; Alpena, Mich., 55; Detroit, 81; St. Louis, 88; Fargo, N.D., 57; Dodge City, Kan., 73; San Antonio, Tex., 91; Havre, Mont., 53; Seattle, 54; and San Francisco, 64.

Blaze Inflicts Severe Damage To Plant

THERE WAS still no estimate available last night on the amount of damage caused when fire of undetermined origin broke out at the Stroudsburg Septic Tank Co. at 310 Sarah St. early Saturday morning. The blaze burned out most of the second floor, destroying the firm's temporary office and valuable patterns used in the construction of concrete pipe and lids. Some machinery also was destroyed.

Russell Inlet, company president, said a thorough study would have to be made before an accurate estimate of damage could be made. It's understood the building is insured.

Stroudsburg firemen received the call at 12:15 a.m. Saturday from a Fulmer Ave. resident, Edward Posten. The volunteers remained at the scene until 2:30 a.m.

Minor Blast

Firemen said about two-thirds of the second floor was destroyed, while the remaining third at the south end of the 200-foot long structure was protected by a fire wall. A concrete floor between the first and second stories protected the ground floor.

A minor blast occurred about 20 minutes after firemen arrived when the fire reached paint drums stored in the building.

The firm was using the second floor for temporary offices since the flood washed away the main office building, located near the storage structure. The firm had planned to move into new quarters in Stroud Township in two weeks.

America has about 54 million families.

Fifteen Masons Work For Complete Work For Degree

FIFTEEN masons from the Stroudsburg - East Stroudsburg section completed work for the 32nd degree Saturday at the Spring reunion of the Lehigh Consistory at Allentown.

One of the group, Burgess Jesse R. S. Flory of East Stroudsburg, was selected to receive the 14th degree honor ring — the only member of the large class of 186 men to be so honored.

Others from this area who received the 32nd degree, Ancient Accepted Scottish Rite, were the following: Dr. Evan Reese, Dr. William Toewe, Arthur Schiebel, Clair Smith, Ray Borger, Thomas Campbell, Donald Hayes, Franklin Smith, Edward Gunn, Clifford Heller, Allen MacMillan, John Potter, William Walter and Leon Keller.

President of the class was Steve Roberts, headmaster at Perkiomen Prep School at Pottsville and coach of the championship basketball teams at East Stroudsburg State Teachers College during the days of Pasko, Ford, Saeger and others around 1942-43-44.

Martin S. Baldwin is the Monroe County representative for the Lehigh Consistory.

The annual Ladies Night dinner will be held at the Penn Stroud Hotel on Monday, May 28. All members of the Lehigh Consistory and their wives are invited to attend.

Irish immigrants are credited with introducing white potatoes into New England.

Explosion, Fire Causes $3,000 Damage In Heeter Home

Marshalls Creek Firemen Halt Blaze

AN EXPLOSION and fire caused an estimated $3,000 damage to the home of Mr. and Mrs. Claude Heeter in Stroudsburg RD 2, about 2:30 p. m., Saturday.

Firemen from Marshalls Creek battled for more than an hour to control the blaze which broke out after the explosion occurred in the kitchen of the two-story frame dwelling, located on Brushy Mountain.

The blast occurred when a daughter, Mrs. Garrett Halterman, entered her parents home and found that the pilot light on the kitchen stove had gone out.

Escapes Injury

Mrs. Halterman reportedly was attempting to light the pilot again when the blast occurred. Although she was not injured, fire broke out in the room.

Mrs. Halterman called the Marshalls Creek volunteers and turned off the gas connection to her parents home. The blaze damaged one end of the kitchen, ate its way through a ceiling to a bedroom above, and then went up to the attic. There was also considerable smoke damage.

Beaver Club Makes Plans

PEN ARGYL — Lehigh Valley Beaver College Club was entertained at the home of Robert Doney. After a tour of the home, Doney gave an interesting and illustrative lecture on block printing, silk screening and enameling on copper.

The group then returned to the home of Miss Dorothy Hill where a business meeting, presided over by Mrs. Adrienne Thomas, was held. Plans were made for a picnic to be held in June at the home of Mrs. Ambrose Kunkle, Nacungie. Plans were also discussed for the annual reunion to be held at Beaver College on Saturday.

Those attending were as follows: Mrs. Rita Lohm, and Mrs. Sarah Gonda of Bethlehem; Mrs. Madlyn Kohner, Mrs. Sadie Durnin, Mrs. Betty Shelly, Mrs. Mildred Schadt, Mrs. Esther Ambler, Mrs. Dorothy Kurtz, Miss Jean Nester, Mrs. Adrienne Thomas of Allentown, Miss Lois Wagen Hurst of Trexlerstown and a guest Mrs. Robert Doney.

Two Cars Collide

ABOUT $500 damage was caused Saturday afternoon when two cars were in collision at the intersection of Scott and Eighth Sts. Stroudsburg borough police identified the drivers involved as Roy R. VanWhy, 26, of 760 Millford Rd., East Stroudsburg, and Frank Buckmann, 58, of Stroudsburg, RD 3.

Traveling North

Police said VanWhy was traveling north on N. Eighth St. and Buckmann was coming east on Scott St. when the mishap occurred.

Two-Day Art Exhibit Scheduled For College

A TWO DAY exhibit of art work will open Wednesday at 10 a. m. in the Art Laboratory at Oakes Hall, State Teachers College.

The clay, paper sculpture, metalwork and woodwork are all products of college students in the elementary curriculum. In their art class they have been making what they will eventually teach their grade school pupils to make.

The public is invited to attend the art show on either of the two days. Work will be on display Wednesday to 5 p. m. and on Thursday the exhibition hours will be from 10 a. m. to 5 p. m. again.

A FEW VOICES HIGH IN SONG. Members of elementary chorus in Stroud Union District are shown here in rehearsal with their director, Miss Alice Bellairs. Pupils will be heard tonight in first joint public concert with junior band at Stroudsburg High School at 8. Public is invited.

Junior Band, Chorus To Hold Concert

TONIGHT at 8 in Stroudsburg High School auditorium the union school district's junior band and an elementary chorus from its schools will share a concert stage for the first time.

The junior band will be conducted by John Pyle, director of instrumental music in the school system. Miss Alice Bellairs is the director of the 85-voice chorus. Mrs. Dorothy Dietrick is the accompanist.

Highlights

Among the highlights will be a hula dance performed by Susan Thurston to the choral accompaniment of "Hawaiian Serenade" and a saxophone solo, "Valse Lyntette" by Sandra Trethaway.

Tickets will be obtainable at the door tonight. All residents of the community are invited to attend. Miss Bellairs and Pyle announced last night.

Democratic Club Meets

PEN ARGYL — Monthly meeting of the Pen Argyl Women's Democratic Club was held recently at the National Bank building, Civic Hall.

Mrs. Charles Bieler, Pen Argyl, reported on the annual meeting of the State Federation of Democratic Women held at Easton, last week.

Mrs. Bieler reported that Mrs. Estelle Brown of Reading was appointed regional director of district eight which includes the counties of Northampton, Lehigh and Berks. She reported that governor George Leader spoke well of the Democratic workers in this area. Also, the State Federation of Democratic Women will hold their annual meeting in Harrisburg.

$2,500 Damage Results From Marshalls Creek Accident

AN ESTIMATED $2,500 damage was caused early yesterday morning when a late model car crashed into a garage near the intersection of Routes 402 and 209 in Marshalls Creek.

Stroudsburg State Police said the driver, Daniel B. Turr, 17, of Stroudsburg RD 1, and three passengers were not injured. However, troopers said Turr would be charged with reckless driving.

Turr was traveling north on Route 402 when he allegedly failed to stop at the intersection of 209, troopers said. His 1955 coupe went into a semi-circular skid and crashed into the southeast corner of a garage owned by Ralph Miller.

Three Persons Injured In East Stroudsburg Accident

THREE PERSONS WERE INJURED in a two-car collision on N. Courtland St. between Sixth St. and Eagle Valley Corners, in East Stroudsburg at 5:10 yesterday afternoon.

Borough Police said a 1956 station wagon operated by Earl F. Christman Sr., 51, of Westerville, Pa., was traveling south on N. Courtland and had stopped to make a left turn into Grandview St. As it did so, a car driven by Virginia D. Hall, 29, of Union City, N. J., crashed into the rear of the Christman auto, while traveling in the same direction.

Shock

Christman's wife, Anna, was treated at General Hospital for shock and bruises. And two occupants of the other car, Ann Joseph, 22, the Bronx, N. Y., and Martin Walke, 24, of Forest Hills Rd., N. Y., were also treated for minor injuries. All three were later discharged.

The Hall woman was charged with driving too fast for conditions. She pleaded guilty to the complaint before Justice of the Peace Elmer P. Bean and was fined $10 and costs.

Total damage was estimated by police at $1,700.

Education Association Draws Praise

A STATE Education Association official, Herbert Lauterbach, told women educators here Saturday that the PSEA lobby has made three "outstanding achievements" in teacher legislation this year.

Cited by Lauterbach, assistant secretary of the PSEA, as achievements were: legislative approval of 16 out of 17 retirement bills proposed by the PSEA; a new salary program (which Lauterbach said will undoubtedly become law) and a one billion dollar building program which has already been "put in operation."

Urging

Lauterbach urged Delta Kappa Gamma Society members from this county and from Northampton County areas to develop a "more aggressive" way of thinking about salaries and to insist on the highest possible salaries for all persons in education regardless of sex.

After Lauterbach's speech, members of both the Phi (local) and Alpha chapters elected new members. Those named to posts in the Monroe-Pike chapter were: Mrs. Lillian Wagner, president; Miss Eloise Bryan, first vice president; Miss Genevieve Zimbar, second vice president; Miss Cora Lange, recording secretary; Miss Janet Bender, corresponding secretary; Miss Elsie Swingle, treasurer; Miss Katherine McFarland, parliamentarian, Miss McFarland is the outgoing president. Both she and Miss Margaret Millen, retiring president of the Eastern chapter, were presented with service pins.

Large Crowd At Program

A CAPACITY audience attended the sacred concert by the "Faith for Today" TV quartet on Saturday night. Held at the Zion Reformed Church, the event was for the benefit of the new Seventh-Day Adventist elementary school.

Introduction

Elder W. R. Bornstein, pastor of the local Adventist church, introduced TV pastor W. A. Fagal, who acted as narrator and introduced members of the television group. Mrs. Margie Hohensee, wife of one of the quartet members, gave several readings and acted as accompanist. Mrs. W. R. Bornstein was organist.

Valley Forge Pays Tribute To Sen. Scott

WAYNE, May 13 — Valley Forge Military Academy bestowed the Alumni Distinguished Achievement Award on State Senator William Z. Scott, of Lansford, at the 27th annual homecoming luncheon yesterday.

Scott represents in the 14th senatorial district, consisting of Monroe, Wayne, Pike and Carbon Counties.

The citation was presented to Scott for his "achievement in law and government." Maj. Gen. Milton G. Baker, superintendent of the academy, made the presentation.

Sen. Scott, who graduated with the Class of 1935, studied at Lafayette College and the University of Pennsylvania Law School, from which he was graduated in 1942.

During World War Two, he served with the 33rd Infantry for 19 months in Trinidad. Later he was with the famed Merrill's Marauders in the China-Burma-India theater and was seriously wounded when fighting behind the Japanese lines.

Honorably discharged from the service as a captain in 1945, he was admitted to the practice of law in Carbon County that year. In 1946, he was elected assemblyman and was reelected in 1948, 1950 and 1952. Two years ago he was elected to the State Senate.

You Hear Strange Things About Catholics

Yes, you can hear some strange things about Catholics. You hear it said that Catholics believe all non-Catholics are headed for Hell . . . that they believe non-Catholic marriages are invalid.

Some think Catholics believe the Pope is God . . . that he can do no wrong . . . that they owe him civil allegiance and that he should have the political power to rule America.

It is said that Catholics want religious freedom only for themselves . . . that they oppose public schools and separation of Church and State as evils which should be destroyed.

The claim is made that Catholics pay the priest for forgiveness of their sins . . . that they must buy their departed relatives and friends out of Purgatory . . . that they adore statues . . . are forbidden to read the Bible . . . use medals, candles and holy water as sure-fire protection against the loss of a job, lightning or being hit by an automobile.

But what is worse, some say, Catholics corrupt the true teachings of Jesus Christ with the addition of pagan superstitions and practices that are nothing less than the inventions of the devil.

If all these things—or any of them—were true, it would be a pity. For at least one out of every six Americans is a Catholic—and it would be a national tragedy if one-sixth of all Americans entertained such erroneous ideas.

The Knights of Columbus is an organization of more than 920,000 Catholic men of reason and intelligence. In our ranks will be found statesmen, scientists, historians, physicians, movie stars, lawyers, educators and others representing every cross-section of American life. And for each and all of them loyalty to the Catholic Faith is the act of a reasonable man.

We are deeply interested in the welfare of our Church and our Country. And we believe the interests of both will be served best when fair-minded people know the Catholic Church as it is—not as it is sometimes mistaken to be.

If you have heard and believed any of these false claims, and want the truth, we will gladly send you a free booklet which explains many aspects of Catholic belief and practice. It will come to you in a plain wrapper—and nobody will call on you. Write for Pamphlet NO KC-1.

Pocono Region Welcomes Senate Action In Approving Flood Insurance Measure

Area residents who own property in localities which flood waters might endanger have reason to rejoice over the recent action of the U. S. Senate in approving a measure that, in effect, sets up the Government in the flood insurance business.

Faced by the fact that private insurance companies could not take the risk of issuing flood insurance policies at premium rates that individuals, businesses and industries could afford to pay, President Eisenhower and Congress were forced to meet the problem by establishing a new federal bureau to handle flood insurance.

The bill as approved by the Senate and sent to the House authorizes the coverage of both real and personal property owned privately or by public bodies.

The bill authorizes direct flood insurance, plus re-insurance for commercial companies who participate in such insurance. The buyer of the insurance policies would pay at least 60 percent of an estimated rate determined by a flood insurance administrator.

The federal government would pay the remaining fee, or subsidy, plus administrative costs until July 1, 1959, when an amendment by Senator Knowland would go into effect. Thereafter the federal government and participating states would divide the subsidy share 50-50.

The amount of insurance which may be insured to any one person is limited to $250,000 and in case of individual dwellings to $10,000. The maximum risk to the federal government is limited to three billion dollars, although with presidential approval the limit could be increased to five billion dollars.

As in automobile collision insurance, the flood policies would contain a "loss deductible" provision to eliminate the so-called nuisance claims. The insured would absorb the first $100 of loss and five percent of the rest of the claim.

Let anyone oppose federal intervention in the flood insurance fields on the grounds it is a step toward socialism, it should be emphasized here is one of those peculiar situations where private enterprise is unable to meet the challenge. So the government is compelled to step in and subsidize the program to make it work.

The only other alternative, it seems, would be to require every individual or company owning property to take out a flood insurance policy, regardless of whether that property would ever be threatened by high water. Such a course, naturally, is impractical as well as undesirable.

It is hoped, therefore, the House will go along with the Senate in voting relief to flood-harassed residents across the nation. The sooner the measure becomes law, the quicker the system can be put into effect.

Farmers, Gardeners Welcome Belated Warm Weather After Cold, Wet Spell

Those of us who have been complaining about the late Spring this year got a real taste of warm weather over the week-end.

Two hot, muggy days Saturday and Sunday were fickle Mother Nature's answer to our complaints about the cold spell early in May, on the heels of a cold and wet April.

Perhaps the last two days weren't as warm and sultry as we seemed to think at the time. After a colder than average Winter and a long Spring, it's just possible we weren't altogether ready for such nice weather. Maybe we should take some sulphur and molasses or a dose of sassafras tea to thin our blood.

In any event, the fruit trees, dogwood blossoms, trees, flowers, shrubs and vegetables made up for time lost during the cold, rainy spell, so any discomfort the sweltering populace experienced was more than offset by benefits to gardens, farms and woodlands.

Those of us who got a touch of sunburn and or lost a few pounds of fat and perspiration while trying to grow something green where only brown earth existed are now hopeful that something other than weeds will come of our labors.

As for ourselves, we must have a yellow thumb instead of a green one. Our dandelion and wild mustard crops are doing fine, thank you, and how are yours?

Patronage Keeps Political Parties Intact; Dewey Faces Knifing In New York Election

Whereas to the professors, politics is the science of government, to the politicians politics is the art of getting on in public affairs. It is all a matter of viewpoint and while the professors would recognize those aspects of government that do not appear to be perfect, the politician knows that in a free society most of the people want to be left alone to their own devices and are willing to pay for it, if the tax is not too high.

The professional politician often prefers to let amateurs, or rather unprofessionals, take the lead in an election year because it looks better. The professional figures that in the end he will manipulate the situation so that he has what he needs which is not the power to articulate philosophies of government and principles of statecraft, but patronage. For it is patronage which keeps a party together and while many denounce it, all professionals practise it. And somehow, it does not take an outsider long to understand that even if he got a public position by accident, if he wants re-election, he must keep his organization together and that means patronage. This is what Governor Allan Shivers may have learned as a result of his contest for power with Lyndon Johnson in Texas. Party loyalty, in that election, paid off. In such a contest as now is taking place in the Democratic Party, it needs to be noted that Stevenson and Harriman are not regarded as professionals, whereas Kefauver and Lyndon Johnson are. To the active manipulator of political votes either in conventions or in Congress, it is not so very important who gets the nomination for President, so long as he is a good guy who understands political organization and sees to it that the patronage in each state goes to the right man. Party loyalty is demanded of unprofessionals and mugs are usually disliked.

During the first year of the Eisenhower Administration, patronage was being used to kill off the Taft forces in each state. Taft died and time healed old wounds and a number of Taft followers were given good positions in the Government, some even close to President Eisenhower. In New York State, however, all patronage continued to go to Thomas E. Dewey who is one of the most skillful professional politicians in the country, but could not do for himself what he did for Eisenhower, get into the White House. Whereas the Taft people can get along with most of the Eisenhower people, and realistically have to none of them want to get along with Dewey in any political enterprise upon which he may engage.

This creates a bit of a situation when it is rumored that it has become impractical for the Republicans to nominate Jacob K. Javits for the United States Senate. In such a contest as now is taking place in the Democratic Party, it needs to be noted that Stevenson and Harriman are not regarded as professionals, whereas Kefauver and Lyndon Johnson are. To the active manipulator of political votes either in conventions or in Congress, it is not so very important who gets the nomination for President, so long as he is a good guy who understands political organization and sees to it that the patronage in each state goes to the right man. Party loyalty is demanded of unprofessionals and mugs are usually disliked.

atorship to run against the aged Herbert Lehman who will be re-nominated by the Democrats. Therefore, it is being suggested that Tom Dewey run for U. S. Senator with the blessing of the Eisenhower Administration.

In the old days, when Dewey was Governor of the State of New York, it was necessary for every practical Republican politician to cater to his ego, to bow before his shrine in order to get state patronage. Now that Averell Harriman is Governor, the state patronage goes to the Democrats anyhow, so why should a Republican worry about Dewey? The only reason is that Dewey still controls the Federal patronage which is mostly disposed of, anyhow, by now. So actually there is no reason why any Republican leader should take his votes to Tom Dewey and most of them will not. Therefore, if the Eisenhower political manipulators impose Dewey upon the New York State Republicans, they might have to accept him as a nominee, but does that mean that they will have to vote for him on Election Day? Not at all. Most of the party professionals will do the best they can to defeat Dewey and to get him out of their hair, as it were.

And that is the talk that is going around here in both Republican and Democratic circles. In the latter, they still think that Dewey will make a slab at the Vice Presidency if any veritable opposition to Nixon arises, which Republicans who will be convention delegates do not believe will happen.

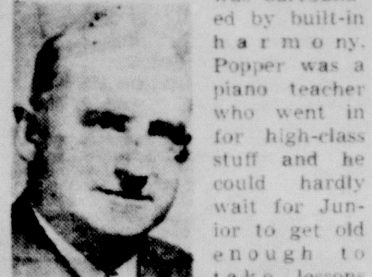

know it was running. After a few years of starting at the bottom and working down, Junior took stock, searched himself for inherited musical talent and found he had plenty without digging deep enough to hit offshore oil.

He began to write songs and sing 'em. Doing a night-club act he met a girl entertainer and they were married. Money began to seem important. He found it easier to concentrate now. Song hits led to such numbers as "First Class Private Mary Brown," "The Ballad of Roger Young," scores of others, and then on to a couple of hit musicals. A sensational show took New York by storm last week, "The Most Happy Fella." It will make Fort Knox look like a penny bank. It was based on "They Knew What They Wanted." Our hero wrote the adaptation, all the music and every lyric. His name: Frank Loesser. The girl he led to the altar from a misery years before was co-producer. Moral: A boy can rebel at piano lessons and still be right, provided he ultimately concentrates.

The Once Over

—by H. I. Phillips

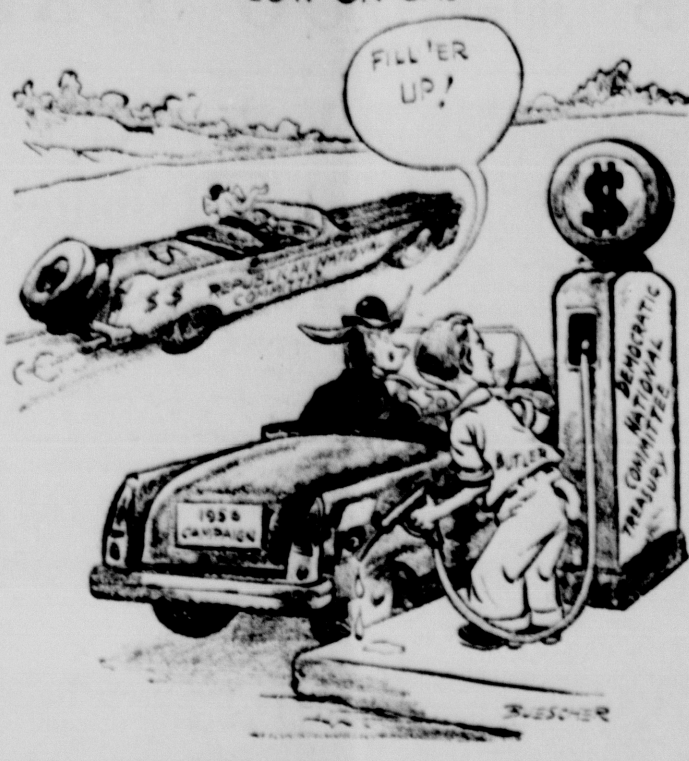

Once upon a time there was a kid who came of a musical family but wasn't impressed. He was surrounded by built-in harmony. Popper was a piano teacher who went in for high-class stuff and he could hardly wait for Junior to get old enough to take lessons like the other boys. But the lad could take a piano or leave it. He preferred to leave it, a course which made the old gent tear his hair and run up the "All Is Lost" signals over his offspring, who met all rebukes with "Music is okay, but there's no future in it." It was agreed by the entire household that there was a problem child. "He will never get anywhere!" seemed the family consensus.

Youngsters Get Energy When The Day Is Done

They doubtless have their reasons, but I have never understood why child psychologists persist in calling younger children "siblings." Maybe because they are frequently "siblingal," but not likely.

Siblings or not, when the night is beginning to lower, comes a pause in the day's occupations that is known as children's hour for revival of energy which has that old blood-sugar theory beat to nuthin'.

It shouldn't happen. It's against all natural laws, house rules and gravity. But happen it does. Siblings, having had nothing to eat since lunch—except juice, milk, and six delicious flavors of soft variety, cookies, crackers, toast, four rounds of bubble gum and Heaven knows what delicacies from hidden caches known by themselves and the mice—should be dozy-eyed, relaxed babes lisp- ing for a kiss and Longfellow's poetry. They should be pooped, these siblings, but they ain't.

Mamma needn't look at the time for the tell-tale hour. She is not deaf. More resonant than any Grandfather's clock with Swiss works chiming the children's hour is the toll which greets—nay, assaults—her ear. Crash, bang, bing, wah-abah!

The siblings have hit pay dirt, the uranium vein, the Mother Lode of renewed vitality. It doesn't seep into their blood stream, ladylike and gradual. It is instantaneous, a mysterious matter of osmosis or space travel or some darn thing only kids understand these days.

"What's for dinner diddle say my dump truck anyplace she hit me first, Mom, honest she did I don't care if she is a girl didn't! Dad say a man has to defend himself what's for dinner, and can we stay up for Disneyland?"

The sibling-adjusted parent breathes deep, flexes the backbones, counts to 45 by fifteens, prays silently for strength and guidance—and, if wise, munches a couple of candy bars and orange juice concentrate. We elders have to run up blood sugar the hard way.

Listen, my children, and you shall hear—plenty. One, fish. Two, no. Three, not again! Four, he did? Five, I said fish. And six, we'll see.

Listen, Longfellow, you should have heard of daylight saving. It might have changed your tune not to mention the midnight ride of Paul Revere. He had a houseful of siblings, didn't he?

Try and Stop Me

—by Bennet Cerf

Jim Barnes recalls a day when J. P. Morgan had to interrupt an Adirondack vacation to resolve a sudden crisis in Wall Street. He telegraphed the New York Central Railroad president that the 10:24 train was to be flagged for him at Paul Smith's station.

Arrived there, Morgan noted that the one man on duty had his feet planted unconcernedly on his desk, and was reading a sports gazette. "How about getting up and flagging that 10:24 like you've been ordered?" thundered J. P. "Say me," said the unconcerned railroad employee.

So J. P. dug up a red flag and waved it furiously at the oncoming train. After it had ground to a stop, he discovered that Paul Smith's was a regular scheduled stop for the 10:24!

Robert S. Allen Reports

Windfall Housing Profits Recovered By Government

Washington, May 13—The government is recovering those big "windfall" profits on FHA-financed rental housing projects.

Already $3,225,000 in "windfall" profits have been regained in 75 of these cases, and measures are being pressed to recapture $30,000,000 more in several hundred others.

That's what Albert Cole, head of the Housing and Home Finance Agency, disclosed under bipartisan Senate questioning about this long-pending matter.

Several years ago a sensational investigation exposed many multi-million dollar "windfall" housing deals throughout the country. Senator Warren Magnuson (D., Wash.), chairman of the Interstate Commerce Commission, has repeatedly demanded vigorous action to recover these profits. Senator Everett Dirksen (R., Ill.) joined him in quizzing Administrator Cole.

Most of the money so far regained has been through agreements. But a number of legal tests are pending.

"Some of them have reached the Appeals Court," said Cole, "and up to now every decision has been in favor of the government. We are genuinely confident of winning all of them in the end."

"How many 'windfall' cases are there?" asked Dirksen. "We have settled about 75 involving 123 projects," replied Cole. "The total recovered in these cases is $5,225,000. We have under negotiation 50 other projects involving the repayment of $3,000,000 more. And we are preparing to proceed on numerous other cases with a potential recovery total of $30,000,000."

The FHA has taken over 19 rental housing projects on which considerable "windfall" profits were made. Cole expressed the belief that no money will be lost on them as they are worth more than the government's loans.

"What happens to the money that is recovered?" asked Magnuson.

"It is paid back to and held by the corporation which built and owns the project," explained Cole. "The disbursement of these funds from the corporation was in violation of the contract and charter. That's why we are demanding their return. These 'windfall' profits are part of the capital and reserves of the corporation for the benefit of the government and the mortgagee."

"Then the taxpayers are not losing any money in these instances," declared Senator Dirksen.

"Definitely not," asserted Cole. "As a result of our legal actions and negotiations, it is no exaggeration to say this is an excellent chance that the government will lose no money in these 'windfall' cases."

Dirksen urged that be widely publicized.

"The whole country ought to know about this," the Illinoisan declared. "Taxpayers should be informed that the government is protecting their interest and equity in these housing projects, and there will be no loss to the government when these cases are finally disposed of."

Magnuson heartily concurred in that. "There were a lot of headlines when these affairs were exposed," he said, "and much criticism of the housing program. So it would be fair and proper to make these latest developments fully known to the public."

Note: World War II veterans have a little more than one year to obtain home loans from the government. Under the law these benefits expire on July 25, 1957. Approximately 15,000,000 World War II and Korean war veterans are still eligible for such loans.

New Treaty—The U.S. is negotiating for more bases on Red-pierled Formosa.

An agreement on that with the Chinese Nationalists is expected to be signed by July 1.

This unannounced information has been conveyed to the House Appropriations Committee, Captain C. H. Crichton, assistant director of Navy Shore Establishments, disclosed it when questioned about a $300,000 request for the Formosa Defense Command.

Captain Crichton told the Committee that part of this money will be used for a "early-warning" system on the offshore islands. He did not name them.

Representative Richard Wigglesworth (R., Mass.) pointed out the Navy's Pacific and Atlantic commanders "get along with around $180,000 each; why do you need $300,000 in this instance?"

"The situations are not comparable," explained Crichton. "This fund is necessary to establish and maintain a sizable communications system that is required for early-warning on the offshore islands in this critical area."

"What kind of bases are involved in this matter?" asked Representative Harry Sheppard (D., Calif.).

"Naval air and certain communications facilities," said Crichton. "The agreements on them have not yet been completed, but are expected to be by July 1. What is being discussed is what the Chinese Republic will furnish and what the U.S. will furnish."

The new Formosa Defense Command was established because of the steadily growing military strength of Red China in this region. Head of the Command is Admiral Stuart Ingersoll, who is also commander of the Seventh Fleet.

Note: Representative John Vary (R., O.) relates that in a discussion with President Eisenhower he remarked, "Lenin may have been right when he said that Communism and the free world cannot exist indefinitely side by side. My answer to that is that we intend to continue to exist, which means they will finally fall."

On Broadway

—by Walter Winchell

The Prod-Pipers of Broadway The torrent of rhythm that gushed from "The Most Happy Fella" began—as all music does—as an experiment in sound. Inevitably, enchantingly, leaping the borders of time, overcame the barriers of geography and the obstacles of language. Music has no language, no creed, no nationality. It is as universal as the sun. The songs of Broadway have echoed around the world... When Cole Porter was in Zanzibar he was stunned to discover a group of East Africans squatting around a scratchy phonograph enjoying the throbbing magic of his "Night and Day." The recent international triumph of "Porgy and Bess" represents another case in point. Incidentally, "Most Happy Fella" is the closest approach to a popular modern opera since Gershwin's classic. Gershwin surrendered $250,000 in movie contracts to create his masterpiece. He spent a year in Dixie dwelling among the people he later immortalized. Gershwin caught their easygoing philosophy in "I Got Plenty of Nothin'."

Gershwin's best efforts were inspired by profound emotions. He once explained "Rhapsody in Blue": "This piece seems to sweep through my mind. It was the heart of America, the feverishness of life, the musical welter of races, of people, their joys and their emotions, their dissipations and their exaltations." Gershwin composed the rhapsody in three weeks when he was only 25. By way of contrast, he poured two years of his genius and energy into creating the score of "Porgy and Bess." Incredibly as it seems in retrospect, Gershwin's rhapsody made an indelible impression on critics. One scorned it as "trite, feeble and conventional."

His life ended suddenly before he launched his most ambitious effort. He planned composing music for "The Gettysburg Address."

The original melody for "Star Dust" was a syncretized tune without words, according to George Marek's essay in a recent Good Housekeeping. Later Isham Jones played it as a "sweet" arrangement of Victor Young... It was composed nearly 28 years ago by Hoagy Carmichael... Long after Hoagy thought his classic was a flop, Mitchell Parish (one of the collyumet poet poets) wrote its delicious lyrics... "When our love was new and each kiss an inspiration..." It has been recorded more than any other song... About 350 times... It has been translated in about 40 languages. A French favorite, too. They call it: "Etoile d'Amour."

Picnic Parties Planned By Roosevelt PTA

Bangor — An outdoor picnic to be held Wednesday night, June 6, and Thursday noon and night, June 7, took up a good share of discussion when the Roosevelt Parents-Teachers Association convened for their monthly meeting on Thursday at the school. Mrs. Grace Thinsley named Mrs. James Calazzo and William Pritchard co-chairmen of the affair. Bake sales and cakewalks will be held both evenings, and hot dogs, hamburgers, hot sausage, ice cream, coffee and cold drinks will be served at noon on Thursday, as well as both nights.

The Bangor Schools Junior band will give a concert on Wednesday night, the Roosevelt flute band will perform on Thursday night. Mrs. Muriel Miller and Mrs. Alice Bailey are co-chairmen of the bake sales and the cakewalks. Mrs. Reba Hughes and Mrs. Elizabeth Cole head up the committee in charge of the fish bowl stand. The affair will be held at the Liberty Fire Hall in Bangor.

Miss Adalene Duvall announced a school of instruction will be held for parent-teacher organization officers and committee heads and any other interested parties on June 2 in the Bangor Area Joint High School auditorium. Registration is to get under way at 9:30. The attendance banner was won by the 1st grade, Mrs. Margaret Bobst teacher, and the 1st grade mothers were hostesses.

Installation of officers was held, with Mrs. Grace Catino, past president, in charge. She spoke briefly on the aims of the PTA, and then installed Mrs. Dorothy Pozzuto, president, Mrs. Stan Schiavone, vice president, Mrs. Elizabeth Cole, Treasurer, and Mrs. Glenn Holland, Secretary.

International night was observed, and Miss Duvall introduced Mrs. Stan Schiavone who compared the schools of her native France with our schools in America. She stated there are two elementary schools in France, one for boys, taught by a male teacher, and one for girls, taught by a female. There are 10 grades to the French elementary school, the 10th grade being their 1st grade. Only the monied class can go on to higher education. The higher school includes three years of instruction. They have no Parent-Teachers organization, and no scholarships are offered to deserving students who would like to go on to higher learning but cannot afford it on their own.

Just Between Us

—By Bobby Westbrook

Nobody was complaining about the weather — unless it might be the choir who found their choir gowns rather hot, or the people who had to work when they wanted to be out in the glory. And glory it was.

Every apple blossom popping open and spraying out scent like an atomizer. Gold-finch, blue birds, cardinals, and orioles adding the riot of color. The gold-finch, particularly, mingled with the dandelions and when they launched on their roller coaster flight it seemed as if the dandelions themselves were taking wing.

Everybody was outside, especially after the sun went down with the badminton nets stretched out in the back yard, a ball game on the corner lot, the housewife, apron in hand, sitting on the porch steps, waiting for the kitchen to cool before tackling the dishes.

Downtown, the light turned green and the leaves spread themselves big enough to cast a shadow when the street-lights came on. It's going to be pretty rugged if the heat spell continues through today, though, what with meetings from morning to night and being dressed up all day long.

However, the end of the club season is now in sight and things on a schedule will start to simmer down and unscheduled things like bridal showers and weddings, informal picnics and impromptu outings will take their place.

Much more relaxing for the participants but a lot harder to locate for the social page.

Miss Lucille Ruggiero

Bangor Girl Is Engaged

Bangor — Mr. and Mrs. John Ruggiero, of Bangor, announce the engagement of their daughter, Miss Lucille Ruggiero to Donald Stewart, of Woodbury, N. J.

Miss Ruggiero attended Beaver College and is a graduate of Gettysburg College where she was a member of the Chi Omega sorority. Mr. Stewart is a graduate of Drexel Institute of Technology and a member of Theta Chi fraternity. He served as first lieutenant in the Army.

Stroud Club Closes Year With Banquet

The Stroud Community Club terminated another successful club year Thursday evening with a dinner at the Fernwood which 57 members and their guests attended.

The business meeting was dispensed with in favor of a social time for the closing annual event.

Mrs. Claude Leister, president of the Senior Woman's Club gave the invocation, and Mrs. T. D. Hoffman, presented, on behalf of the club, a gift to Mrs. Hazel West, retiring president. In appreciation for her past two years of devoted service.

Each member introduced her respective guest or guests which included Mrs. Foster S. Minnich, president of Monroe County Federation of Women's Clubs, Mrs. Claude Leister, president of Senior Women's Club, and Mrs. Elwood German, president of the Junior Woman's Club.

Wellington H. Wolfe, of Reading, Penna., introduced by Mrs. T. D. Hoffman, presented a Victor Borge type program entitled, "Highlights Of Musical Comedy", going as far back as 1912 to the present with comedy in song, and concluding with a travesty on grand opera.

Pocono Future Nurse Club Visits St. Luke's School

Tannersville — The future Nurses Club of Pocono High School visited St. Luke's Hospital in Bethlehem on April 26. Dew Shunk, Marie Besecker, Nancy Canfield, Joyce Hay, Jayne Starnier, Mary Miller, Shirley Bitterman, and Gisela Wydenz made the trip with Mrs. E. T. Horn, advisor, and Mrs. T. I. Metzgar, chairman of the nurse recruitment committee of the Monroe County Medical Society Auxiliary.

At present the club is learning at their meetings how to make a bed, hospital style, with a patient in it.

On May 25, the club is giving a farewell party to the graduating members, Dew Shunk and Shirley Kane.

Hughes Visits Former Home

Mr. and Mrs. George Hughes, Stroudsburg, with May Zuchelli and Mary Dreher are planning to visit Trenton, N. J., today, where Mrs. Hughes will visit her former home as well as the orphanage where she lived when she was four. One of the earliest residents at the Children's Home, a delegation visited Mrs. Hughes here last year, and she had planned a return visit the day of the flood, which is just now taking place.

Analomink PTA To Go To New York

Analomink — The meetings are over for the Analomink PTA but not their plans since they will take a trip to New York sometime in the near future. Mrs. Roland Fritz, Mrs. Melvin Bush and Harry Anton were named to a committee to decide on a time and make arrangements.

Meanwhile at their final meeting held last week, the members looked back over the programs and activities of the past year with Harry Anton, principal, reviewing those programs, month by month, for evaluating the program and planning for next year. The workings of the new school union comprised the first two meetings. The psychology of the child, his physical well-being, and preparing the child for entering school were themes of the next three programs, and national parks, music, and the Children's Bill of Rights were also featured. A Halloween dance, a Christmas program, magazines for the children and the winning of the Gold Seal certificate were among the year's highlights.

Mrs. Bennett Strail, speaker at the May meeting, commended the school and its program. Her topic was "Remedial Reading," in which she stressed the importance of the physical well-being of the child in seeing and hearing and speaking, clearly; his emotional willingness to be away from his mother, and his mental maturity. Children are not ready to read until they have a mental age of 6.6 she said when they should have a spoken vocabulary of 2,500 words. Boys are slower than girls until they reach sixth grade when history, geography and the sciences engross their interest.

We like to do what we do well, she said, and deplored the effects of too many failures for the child. By the sixth grade there is often a reading range from second year level to tenth, all within the same age level.

Mrs. Marian Pfeiffer, new president, presented the yearly award of $5 to Mrs. Addie Weidman's room which won the attendance banner the most times during the year. Harry Anton's room was highest in attendance at the May meeting. Mrs. Pfeiffer named Mrs. Melvin Bush to serve with the auditing committee. Announcement was made of the County PTA Council meeting to be held in Delaware Water Gap at the end of the month.

A program under the direction of Mrs. Marion Harris was as follows: a piano duet by Eleanor Sandercock and Anne Edwards; a trio consisting of Susan Jackson, Lyona Parsons, and Rona Sandercock sang accompanied by Eleanor Sandercock, Mrs. Walter Dietz, accompanied by her daughter, sang several selections. A reading was followed by Mrs. Dorothy Young. A pantomime sketch was presented by the following: Mrs. Irene Voorhes and her infant son of less than one month old, Mrs. Claire Harding and daughter Sara, Mrs. Ruth Hendershot and son William, Mrs. Allen Jackson and daughter Susan, Mrs. Clarence Brown and daughter Mrs. Edith Kellow.

The program concluded with a fashion show which depicted the elite of New York City's high society just returning from Grace Kelly's wedding in Monaco. Mrs. Marion Harris was narrator. The models who wore the fashions of the twenty's were Mrs. Arthur Stofflet, Mrs. Fred Hulsizer, Mrs. Walter Dietz, Mrs. William Shipman, and Miss Norma Miller.

A resume of the past year's school achievements will be announced at the meeting on Thursday.

Present at the executive meeting were the incoming officers as well as the retiring president, Theodore Schulz, the new president, appointed the following committee chairmen: Marie Schultz, program; Hazel Achey, hospitality; Grace Thompson, library; Chester Stanowski, budget; Frank Varney, legislation; Sarah Haflic, faculty membership; Mrs. John Bartholomew, membership; Martha Doney and Evelyn Shupp, County Council; Martha Doney, publicity; Edward Doney, Gordon Shupp and John McGarvey, auditing committee.

A resume of the past year's school achievements will be announced at the meeting on Thursday.

Fidelity Circle, Guests Hear Talk By Mrs. Hayes

Portland — Fidelity Circle of the Portland Presbyterian Church entertained members of the Mount Bethel Church at their meeting on May 8 in the social rooms. Mrs. Ethel Seely led the devotion and Dr. David Edwards the program. Mrs. Ray Transue, program chairman, introduced the program.

Soloist was Miss Marie LaTourrette, who sang three numbers with Miss Doris Sebring, accompanist. Mrs. John Hayes, guest speaker, told of her experiences when she was interned with her two children by the Japanese in the Philippines while her husband was held in China by the communists. Dr. Hayes is at present in Indonesia and Mrs. Hayes is on a speaking tour of the country.

A social time followed the program. Refreshments were served by the hostesses: Miss Agnes Williams, Mrs. Lela Williams, Mrs. Carl Kramer, Mrs. Paul Sigafuss, Mrs. Arthur Bartlett, Mrs. Gladys Carpenter and Mrs. Ray Transue.

Those present were: Mrs. John Hayes, Dr. and Mrs. David Edwards, Miss Marie LaTourrette, Miss Doris Sebring, Mrs. John Felker, Mrs. Charles Felker, Mrs. William Lutz, Mrs. Jesse Enck Sr., Mrs. Dean Predmore, Mrs. Peter Lovrie, Mrs. Paul Hay, Mrs. Franklin Allen, Mrs. Walter Shumaker, Mrs. Ethel Seely, Mrs. Ray Transue, Mrs. Gladys Car-

Presbyterian Women Meet At Wilson Home

Del. Water Gap — There was important business transacted at the meeting of the Presbyterian Women's Auxiliary held on Tuesday night at the home of Mrs. John Wilson Jr. It opened with devotions led by Mrs. C. B. Rosenkrans. Mrs. Frances Drake presided at the business meeting.

The successful April roast beef supper doubled the amount in the treasury. It was reported. A food sale was planned for Saturday, May 26, beginning at 10 a.m. on the lawn at the Elam Gray home with Mrs. George Hauser and Mrs. William Giebe assisting Mrs. Guyton Kemper, chairman.

The group voted to pay $100 on the church carpet bill reducing the total to $200. They also agreed to share the cost of the heavy-duty electric mixer with the fire company auxiliary. Mrs. M. E. Leffler is receiving orders for name and address labels, and Mrs. Drake invited members to attend a meeting at her home on May 15 at 2 p.m. when a proposed project will be explained.

Mrs. George Hauser and Miss Nellie Bird reported on the meeting of the Lehigh Women's Presbyterian at Hazleton on April 27. Members signed a bon-voyage card for Mrs. Chris Falkenhagen who will fly to Germany for a five week's visit. The May Flower committee is Mrs. C. B. Rosenkrans and Mrs. Luther Markin, and the June meeting will be held in the Sunday school.

Mrs. William Giebe assisted Mrs. Wilson in serving refreshments.

Playschool Co-op Elects Anderson

Praise for the Pocono Playschool Co-op was given at the general membership meeting held recently in the nursery school rooms at the Stroudsburg Methodist Church by Mrs. Marjorie Handcock, state inspector of private schools from Harrisburg. Mrs. Handcock had evaluated the school and praised it for its successful year and excellent equipment. She conducted a question and answer period.

Edward C. Telling, retiring president, conducted the business meeting when Robert Anderson was elected president for the new year; Mrs. Charlotte Petry, vice president; Mrs. Irene Nissen, secretary; Mrs. Marion Rowe, treasurer and Mrs. Peg Hardaker and Mrs. Jo Fuhrer, members at large.

Registrations are being taken for the Fall term and can be made by calling Mrs. Charlotte Petry 3384 J 2. The Nursery School enrolls children between the ages of 3 and 5.

Refreshments were served by Mrs. Dorothy Everitt and Mrs. Betty Miller.

Tobyhanna WSCS

Tobyhanna — The Tobyhanna Women's Society of Christian Service will meet at the Methodist Church on Tuesday night at 8 p.m.

If my face is red, it isn't from sunburn, believe me! It's because nobody but nobody has had her foot in her mouth more times in the past three days than I, and none could ever surpass my record for the faux pas. After all that's been happening, it wasn't too bad to arrive at the radio station and find two guests whom I had believed scheduled for another day, and for whom I was totally unprepared. . . . It was the initial incident of the Helanca film that REALLY threw me.

Weeks ago a letter had arrived from a firm of management consultants, asking if our training department would be interested in showing a film on Helanca stretch yarn to our employees. I would, I replied. . . . and in due time we received a flat, square box which supposedly contained the film, instruction pamphlets, and dialogue on record. All was there as stated. . . . except the film. I waited. The scheduled showing was postponed. . . . still no film arrived. Only a letter. . . . a letter asking me to please return the film as the company had a long waiting list.

In exasperation I telephoned New York and asked for the gentleman who had written me. "The film never came," I protested. "Look in the box," he suggested. I did. I even shook it. "Nothing," I concluded. "It's there," he insisted pleasantly but firmly. "Poke around and see." I poked. I called in Shirley Widmer, and he examined the box, verifying my opinion. No film. After a few more protests and arguments, it was finally explained that the package had a false bottom. Concealed in this hidden compartment was a tiny aluminum tube — not at all what I'd expected to find — and in the tube, if one peered closely enough, was a tiny strip of film.

The long-suffering gentleman on the other telephone was gleeful in victory. . . . and more than decent about the mixup. We could certainly keep the film another week if we desired, he said. . . . and I shouldn't be embarrassed at all. . . . I wasn't really as stupid as I believed, because this same thing had happened on four other occasions. In fact, when a similar parcel had been shipped to the plant in Switzerland the same sort of an SOS came. It was the surprising fact that there are others as stupid as I didn't make me feel any better. I took an aspirin.

One thing is certain. . . . I'll never forget the Helanca name and, as a by-product of my mortification, the wonderful facts about it. It is a terrific innovation. . . . a nylon fiber that has actually been given a permanent wave so that it stretches in all directions. A child's sock of Helanca will expand three shoe sizes in length and correspondingly in depth (for toe wiggling). Panties of Helanca, as sold in our lingerie department, conform to the body and stretch as muscles require. So do Helanca girdles by Formfit and girdles with Helanca inserts. Children's creepers of this wonder yarn fit as well at 18 months as they did at 6 months. Socks of Helanca never slide, wrinkle, or overheat, and in all Helanca fashions from gloves to bathing suits there is luxurious custom fit at all times.

Helanca was the first of the stretch yarns, carefully thought out and processed, and far superior to any of the quick-guesses that immediately came out in competition. Helanca hosiery will wear approximately 6 months steadily under proper conditions. And the yarn never requires ironing. Oh, I've learned about Helanca all right. I've also learned that even boxes may not be all they appear. There are falsies and falsies!

Brinker Holds Franchise For Venetian Blind Laundry

EDITORS NOTE: This is another in a series of feature by-line articles to be presented on The Daily Record Business Review Page. Each is submitted by one of the business representatives here. Stories will discuss new products and services on the market and ways in which local business can serve you, the customer, more fully.

By Milton Brinker
of Brinkers Cleaning Service

WE HAVE A NEW service that is now available to housewives, businesses and industrial firms of this area. We were recently awarded a local franchise for a venetian blind laundry.

Featuring machine process cleaning, it really revitalizes dirty, shoddy looking blinds. The entire blind is cleaned; tapes, cords and slats will come back sparkling clean and we'll have your blinds back on your windows in little more than 24 hours.

Here's how our venetian blind laundry works:

Blinds scheduled for cleaning are taken to our shop. There, our new machine cleaning process—utilizing a special detergent—literally bombards away dirt and grime.

Added Service
This is an added service we offer to residents of this area. It is not only fast and very economical, but produces excellent results.

It's a wise way to lighten your Spring house cleaning chores. Instead of bending over a bathtub and scrubbing your blinds the old-fashioned way, give us a call and have us do the job for you. (see our adv. on this page.)

Rev. Shoemith Recalls Many Religious Changes

By Paul Carlson

REV. THOMAS SHOEMITH carefully reflected on the changes which he has witnessed during his long career as an Episcopal clergyman.

"I think," he said at length, "that in recent years people—and especially young married people—are recognizing their need for God."

"I think they are recognizing that they have very valid needs and that God alone can meet them," Mr. Shoemith noted. "There is a developing concept today that religion is very vital to all aspects of life—not only when you die, but right here and now."

However, such was not the case—especially in intellectual circles—when Mr. Shoemith was a student. In those days, young college students were generally swayed by the scientific spirit which tended to encourage a spirit of agnosticism among them.

"In these days, intellectuals placed their confidence in man's ability to solve his own problems whatever they might be," commented the elderly clergyman, who will retire July 1 as rector of Christ's Church in Stroudsburg—the church he has served since 1927.

Weaken
"With World War I," Mr. Shoemith continued, "the spirit of self-confidence began to weaken somewhat."

"Then came the depression, then the second world war," he remarked, "and this confidence received a terrific jolt."

The Christ Church rector suggested that it was again in the intellectual circles that this "jolt" was the most decidedly felt. However, the reaction also reached the man in the street.

In the church at large today, he said, "a great development is evident in the present ecumenical spirit. This grows out of a conviction that the Body of Christ should be one."

"On the other hand," he added, "we must remember that only greater rifts are created when we try to force issues."

"Yet in this movement we see a real effort on the part of Christians to understand the other fellow's viewpoint," he continued.

"Certainly, the ecumenical movement is therefore one of the great movements in the Church today."

Some Directions
The dignified clergyman further noted that during his years in Stroudsburg he has seen things moving in the same direction here as he has witnessed throughout the Church in general.

"There is more of an interest in church today," said Mr. Shoemith. "Young people in general feel their need to become affiliated with some one church."

He recalled that a recent survey of membership trends in local churches shows there has been "a slow, steady growth," rather than anything phenomenal.

Such has been the case with Christ Church, since Mr. Shoemith took over the duties of rector close to 30 years ago.

Born in Torrville, Conn., on April 7, 1885, he was taken to Philadelphia at an early age. There he attended the public schools and the Germantown Academy.

After a year's study at St. Stephen's College (now Bard College), Mr. Shoemith went to the University of Pennsylvania. He received his bachelor's degree there and his theological education at the Philadelphia Divinity School.

In June, 1916, Mr. Shoemith was ordained to the deaconate by the late Rt. Rev. Philip Mercer Rhinelander, then bishop of Pennsylvania and advanced to the priesthood by the same bishop in 1917. He married Miss Emma Irene Mitch, a nurse at Episcopal Hospital in Philadelphia in Sept., 1916.

The Shoemiths are the parents of two children, a son, Thomas Paul, associated with the State Department in Washington, D. C.; and a daughter, Mrs. Nelson Newcomb Roselle, N. J.

First Parish
Mr. Shoemith's first parish was in Morton, Pa. He served there from June, 1916, to Nov. 1918. Then he served All Saints Church in Lehigh before answering the call to Christ Church in Sept. 1927.

During his tenure here, Mr. Shoemith has served as president of the Monroe County Ministerium, as a director of the Children's Aid Society and on the county library committee.

However, Mr. Shoemith will retire July 1 because he is nearing the canonical retirement age. It was with an expression of "sincere regret" that the vestry of Christ Church accepted the resignation of its rector and named his successor, Rev. Charles A. Park. The latter, presently vicar of St. Peter's Church in Plymouth, will begin his new duties Sept. 1.

Looking over the years, Thomas Shoemith has seen Christ Church grow in numbers.

When he came, Christ Church was faced with a number of difficult problems. In due time, Christ Church, under Mr. Shoemith's rectorship and with the devoted support of his vestry and congregation, was able to resolve these problems. And today Christ Church is one of the substantial parishes in the Diocese of Bethlehem.

Mr. Shoemith has—like any other rector—baptized scores of infants and later presented them to the bishop for confirmation. But he has also had the privilege to see these same youngsters grow up, marry, and return with their youngsters for the sacrament.

"It's a different Christ Church than when I came here," he concluded. "I regard it as a great privilege to have served Christ Church and its people."

Florey, 99, Expires At Home

AMANDUS FLOREY, 99 and one-half years old, died Saturday at 9 p.m. at his home, Chipperfield Drive, East Stroudsburg RD 3. He was one of Monroe county's oldest residents.

In failing health for several months, he would have been 100 on Jan. 31, 1957. Prior to residence in this area he had been known as the oldest resident of the Wind Gap region.

Mr. Florey led an active life most of his 99 years. In Wind Gap he was one of the organizers of the borough and one of its first councilmen. He served for many years as assistant postmaster and later as postmaster in the borough. He was a lumberman for 18 years there.

Assessor
After his pioneering work in the formation of the borough, Mr. Florey also served as borough assessor. For many years he was a member of the church council at Trinity Chapel. Until he retired in 1929 he was employed for a long period by the Phoenix Slate Co. near Wind Gap.

Following his retirement he continued to lead an active life with his hobby as a gardener until a few months before his death.

He was born in Lower Mount Bethel township, Northampton County, the son of the late Reuben and Hannah Speer Florey.

Surviving are his wife, Adeline M. VanScoten Florey; two sons, Calvin R. of East Stroudsburg RD 3 and Ezra of Wind Gap; two step-daughters, Mrs. Anna Kistler, East Stroudsburg and Mrs. Elsie Lawrence, Phillipsburg, N. J.; four grandchildren; nine great-grandchildren; eight great-great-grandchildren and five step-grandchildren; and seven step-great-grandchildren. He was the last member of a family of seven.

Funeral services will be held Wednesday at 2 p.m. at Schmidt funeral home in Wind Gap with Rev. L. B. Kliek, Lutheran pastor

Steering Group To Hold Meeting

CRESCO—The interim steering committee for the Pocono Mountain Joint Schools will meet at Barrett School here Wednesday night at 8.

According to David E. Nelson, temporary secretary, the agenda will include reports from three committees and discussion of financial payments to the joint district after it goes into full effect in July.

Funeral Notices

FLOREY, Amandus of East Stroudsburg RD 3, Saturday May 12, aged 99. Relatives and friends are respectfully invited to attend funeral services Wednesday May 16 at 2 p.m. from the Schmidt funeral home Wind Gap. Interment in the Plainfield cemetery. Viewing Tuesday at the funeral home 7-9 p.m.

Rev. Charles A. Park

Rev. Park To Become Local Rector

REV. CHARLES A. PARK, vicar of St. Peter's Episcopal Church in Plymouth, Pa., will become rector of Christ Church in Stroudsburg on Sept. 1.

Mr. Park will succeed Rev. Thomas Shoemith, who will retire July 1 after 40 years in the ministry. The vestry accepted Mr. Shoemith's retirement with "sincere regrets." He had served as rector of the local parish since 1927.

The new rector-elect was born in Chatham, Ontario. He attended Queen's University in Kingston, Ont., where he received his bachelor of arts degree in psychology and biology with first class honors in 1942.

Masters
Mr. Park received his master of science degree at the University of Michigan, before going on to the Berkeley Divinity School in New Haven, Conn., where he was granted the degree of bachelor of sacred theology (cum laude) in 1948.

Ordained to the deaconate on June 11, 1948, Mr. Park was ordained into the priesthood on Jan. 25 of the following year. On both occasions, the ordination rites were conducted by Rt. Rev. Arthur McKinstry, bishop of Delaware.

Mr. Park served as curate of Trinity Church, Wilmington, Del., from 1948-50. From there, he went to Plymouth to become vicar at St. Peter's Church and assistant at St. Stephens, Wilkes-Barre. He has served in both capacities to the present.

Directors
While in Plymouth, Mr. Park has been a member of the Plymouth Pastors Association, in which he has served as president, vice president and secretary. He also served on the board of directors of the Plymouth Kiwanis Club, and has been affiliated with the Plymouth Library board, Wyoming Valley Chapter of the International Torch Club and the Wyoming Valley Oratorio Society.

Mrs. Park was born in Paris, Ontario. She is the former Mary Ellen Patterson.

She is a graduate of Victoria Hospital and the School of Public Health Nursing and University of Western Ontario. Before her marriage, she was in charge of the Chatham, Ont., branch of the Victorian Order of Nurses of Canada.

While at Plymouth, Mrs. Park has been affiliated with the auxiliary of the Wilkes-Barre General Hospital, the Wyoming Valley Women's Club, Friends of the Plymouth Library and the Luzerne County Planned Parenthood Federation.

Rev. and Mrs. Park have two sons, David, 5, and John, 2.

History Society Takes Trip

MEMBERS OF THE Stroudsburg High School Junior Historical Society took a trip to New York over the weekend.

Chaperoned by their advisor, Miss Lillian Stark, 13 students toured the Stock Exchange on Wall St., visited St. Patrick's Cathedral, attended a showing of "Cinemas" and took the guided tour through Rockefeller Center.

The group left Stroudsburg at 8 a.m. Friday by bus; returned Saturday afternoon.

Waring In Story

MONROE COUNTY'S favorite musical son got a free plug in a comic strip this past week.

Readers of The New York Post locally saw the name of Shawnee's own Fred Waring in the first panel of Mutt and Jeff episode.

The strip showed Mutt and Jeff seated in a country club. A waiter came up in the first panel and said: "Mr. Fred Waring would like you to have another of these."

Sugar Ray-Bobo Title Clash Tops Boxing Card For Week

By Jack Hand
The Associated Press
SUGAR Ray Robinson defends his world middleweight championship Friday night at Los Angeles against Carl (Bobo) Olson, the ex-champ, who was knocked out in the second round Dec. 9 at Chicago.

Despite this decisive ending, the odds on the big match have been hanging around even money for weeks with the scales dipping toward Olson, back to Robinson and back again to Bobo.

Although Robinson holds three victories over Olson, a knockout in 1950, a decision in 1952 and a KO last December, the Olson camp remains confident. Olson, 28, has youth on Robinson, 33, who quit once and stayed retired for 31 months.

Saxton In Action
There is room for 29,000 at Wrigley Field and a gate potential of $360,000 for the 15-round match that will be carried on network radio and television (NBC) with the Los Angeles area blacked out on TV. Each fighter gets 30 percent with Robinson guaranteed $75,000 no matter what the fight draws. As usual, the TV fight starts at 9 p.m. (EST).

Johnny Saxton, the welterweight champ, also will be in action but his title will not be at stake in an over-the-weight match with Gil Turner at Chicago Stadium on the Wednesday (ABC) TV series.

It will be Saxton's first start since March 14 when he took the championship from Carmen Basilio at Chicago in a disputed decision.

Saxton and Turner met once before in Philadelphia in 1953 with Turner winning in 10 rounds, the first defeat in Saxton's career.

Calhoun Today
Rory Calhoun, unbeaten young middleweight with 20 straight victories, tops the Monday card at St. Nicholas Arena in New York against Randy Sandy of New York. Calhoun is a big favorite to make it 21 in a row.

In his last start, the 21-year-old Calhoun whipped Jackie LaBua, April 9. Sandy, a hot-shot amateur of the 1948-50 era, knocked out Alphonso Flores in his latest start, April 3 at Houston.

The scrap will be seen on TV (DuMont).

Mentors List For Shawnee Swim Meet

SHAWNEE-ON-DELAWARE — The list of coaches who will select and coach District A.A.U. swimming teams in the Eighth Annual Shawnee Invitation Swimming Meet at Shawnee Inn and Country Club, Sunday June 17, was completed with the acceptance from Mrs. Catherine D. Meyer, coach of the Watchung Lake Swim Club team.

Mrs. Meyer, a member of the National A.A.U. women swimming and track committees and a member of the United States Olympic Committee, will select and coach the swimmers from the New York-New Jersey District A.A.U.

Other Coaches
Other coaches who will select and coach teams in the Shawnee meet are: Stanley Tinkham, of the national championship, Walter Reed Swim Club of Washington, who will handle the men's and women's teams from the South Atlantic District; Ray Dain, Germantown, Pa. YMCA, who will coach the Middle Atlantic District girls' team and John DiBarbado, York, Pa. YMCA who will coach the Middle Atlantic District men's team.

6-Team Loop In LL Play In Pen Argyl

PEN ARGYL — A six-team league is planned in the Pen Argyl Green-White Little League this season, circuit officials announced yesterday.

The loop formerly operated with four teams but due to the increase in players, league moguls decided to up the number of entries to six.

It was also announced by Ernest Parsons that coaches and umpires are needed for the coming campaign. Persons interested in officiating and tutoring are urged to contact Parsons.

League officials also urged players to return parent release forms today at Albion Commons Field at 6 p.m.

10th LVL Meet Set Tomorrow

THE 10th ANNUAL Lehigh Valley League track and field meet will be held at Northampton tomorrow. The runoffs are slated to get under way at 2 p.m.

Participating schools are Northampton, Lehigh, Emmaus, Palmyra and Whitehall. The Zephyrs won the team title the last two years. Northampton is the favorite to cop honors this year.

Gray's And IAM To Battle Today

GRAY'S Chevrolet and IAM will clash in a Monroe County Softball League game today at the Stroudsburg Playground field. Game time is 6:15 p.m.

Gray's is currently riding in second place with a 2-1 win and loss mark. Twin City TV and Nebel's Market are tied for first with 2-0 records each.

Bucs Reschedule Four Ball Games

PITTSBURGH, May 13 (AP)—The Pittsburgh Pirates yesterday announced rescheduling of four games, as follows:

Against New York to be played as part of a doubleheader here July 1.

Against New York to be played as part of a doubleheader here Aug. 12.

Day game of May 31 against New York here changed to a night

Second Draft Planned By LL

A SECOND draft of players is planned by the Stroudsburg Little League, president Jack Mullins announced yesterday.

Mullins said the plans will be furthered for the new draft at a meeting of league officials, managers and assistants at the Stroudsburg YMCA Thursday, starting at 7:30 p.m.

The current agenda calls for the players to be assigned to teams for further tryouts before being sent to the minor league.

SERIOUS INJURIES were suffered by the occupants of this car which crashed into a tractor-trailer early Saturday morning on Route 611 at Arlington Heights. The driver, John "Kelly" Petrokonis, 29, of the Lenape Apartments, S. Seventh St., is in fair condition at General Hospital, while a passenger, Calvin Cavanaugh, 31, of 212 N. Seventh St., was still listed as critical late last night. The bottom photo shows the tractor-trailer involved. The operator, C. S. Meixsell, 39, of Oxford, N. J., was not injured. (Staff Photo by Riley)

Two Seriously Injured In Accident

A COLLISION involving a car and a tractor-trailer early Saturday morning in Arlington Heights resulted in serious injuries to two Stroudsburg men and caused $8,000 damage.

Calvin Cavanaugh, 31, of 212 N. Seventh St., was still listed in critical condition at General Hospital last night with a severe head and chest injuries and a dislocated hip. And John "Kelly" Petrokonis, 29, of the Lenape Apartments, S. Seventh St., was in fair condition with head cuts, a probable dislocated hip and fractures of the ankle and forearm.

Traveling North

Petrokonis was traveling north on Route 611 about 3:15 a.m. Saturday when the mishap occurred near the intersection of Chipperfield Dr., State Police said.

A tractor-trailer operated by C. S. Meixsell, 39, of Oxford, N.J., had crossed the southbound lane of the highway and was entering the northbound lane when the Petrokonis auto struck the tractor broadside, troopers said.

The truck driver was not injured, State Police added.

Full House For Two Weeks

FIRST TWO WEEKS of Girl Scout camp at Camp Lloyd Treble are "all filled up," Girl Scout spokesmen said last night.

Capacity for each week is 60 girls. There are now 41 registrations for the third week, leaving 19 places still open and 13 registrations for the fourth week, with 47 openings.

Registration

Registration continues Tuesday and Thursday at 1 to 5 p.m. at Girl Scout headquarters on Sarah St. and on Wednesday from 10 a.m. to 2 p.m. and from 7 to 8:30 p.m. All Scouts may register whether or not they have camp stamps, according to Mrs. Alfred Munson, in charge of registration.

Shortway Turnpike President To Speak At Chamber Meeting

Z. H. CONFAR, of Williamsport, president of the Keystone Shortway Turnpike Association, will address the full membership luncheon meeting of the Pocono Mountains Chamber of Commerce at the Penn-Stroud Hotel next Monday at 12:10 p.m.

Confar will review all phases of the Shortway project in his talk. The Shortway has been authorized by the General Assembly, but no actual work will be started pending a feasibility survey to be conducted by the Pennsylvania Turnpike Commission.

Authorized

An independent survey by a group of Penn State University professors has been authorized by the Shortway Association in the hopes of speeding final approval of the project. As approved by the Legislature, the Shortway will extend from Stroudsburg to Sharon. It would link a proposed extension of the New Jersey Turnpike at Delaware Water Gap with the Ohio Turnpike at a point near Sharon.

The Chamber has nominated Clifford Cramer as a director to represent this area on the Shortway Commission.

All members of the Pocono Mountains Vacation Bureau, as well as those of the Chamber, are invited to attend next Monday's luncheon meeting.

Stroudsburg Man At Conference

HAROLD HOSIER, of Stroudsburg, representative of the Metropolitan Life Insurance Co., is in Virginia Beach, Va., today for business conferences with officials at the Cavalier Hotel.

Hosier, who lives at 430 Quentin Road, had an exceptional sales and service record in 1955 and is among the top-ranking members of Metropolitan's staff of 22,000 field representatives in the United States and Canada.

Police Make Charge

ROCKVILLE CENTRE, N. Y., May 13 (AP)—The police department here will charge local merchants $2.50 for every half hour, or fraction thereof, its patrolmen spend escorting money to and from banks.

Open Meeting To Be Held Tomorrow

AN OPEN meeting, sponsored jointly by the Stroudsburg Lions Club and the Monroe County Tuberculosis Society, will be held Tuesday night at the Penn-Stroud Hotel.

The weekly Lions Club dinner at 6:30 p.m. will precede the meeting, which is scheduled to begin shortly after 7:15.

Purpose of the joint meeting is to discuss possible ways to improve the health program in Monroe County, especially as it pertains to the Tuberculosis Society.

Brief Talks

Brief talks will be given by Mrs. Marie N. Rowe, director of research for the Pennsylvania Tuberculosis and Health Society, and Dr. Richard I. Darnell, a general practitioner in New Hope. He is an active leader in public health work in Bucks County and is a member of the Public Health Committee of the Pennsylvania Medical Society.

A question and answer period will follow the addresses.

Invitations to attend the dinner and meeting have gone out to service and women's clubs, labor groups, health organizations, doctors, nurses and others interested in health. Anyone wishing to attend who has not received an invitation may make reservations by calling the Tuberculosis Society office at 1371 before 3 p.m. today.

Polish Figures

UNITED NATIONS, May 13 (AP)—Figures produced by Red Poland for publication by the U.N. report that 95 per cent of all Polish workers were employed last year in socialized enterprises. But only 23 per cent of sown farmland was under socialized cultivation, the report says, indicating a Polish aversion to collective farming.
